Below Is A Brief Description Of Certain Fields To Be Filled Out On The DVD Source Master Form
Please Note: These items are critical to perform source analysis, mastering & test verification.

- Customer: Authoring Company; need to know who to contact if there is a potential problem

- Number of discs in set the total number of discs in the set with this catalog number

- Disc # Needed if multi disc set, indicates the disc number within the set

- Disc Side whether it's the A side or B Side of a DVD 10,14,18

- Layer#: Which side of the dual layer -- 0 or 1

- Dual Layer: Is this an Opposite Track Path (OTP) or Parallel Track Path (PTP)?

- Layer Break: Applicable to Dual Layer OTP only; need to know at what playtime does the layer break occur?

- NTSC or PAL: Applicable for Regions Outside region 1

- Full Frame/ Letterbox: If you want the DVD-10,14,18 a specific way; i.e. Side A must be 4x3 Full Frame, Side B 16x9 Letter Box)

- Region (s) Indicate the region(s) for which the disc is encoded

- Territory (s) Indicates the intended territory within the region(s)

- BCA Type Burst Cutting Area
  - Non-Serial = Same code on each disc
  - Serial = sequential code on each disc

- Copy Protection: The video Source SCRambling STatus (SSCRST) will determine what type of scrambling will be used and what type of key is required
  For Example:
  - SSCRST type 0 = No encryption
  - SSCRST type 1 = Keys are supplied on the DLT and will be encrypted during mastering
  - SSCRST type 2 = Data is already encrypted on the DLT
  - SSCRST type 3 = No keys are supplied on the DLT (WAMO will supply keys that will be encrypted during mastering)
  - SSCRST type 4 = Encryption table determines which sectors will be encrypted (WAMO will supply keys encrypted during mastering)
  - SSCRST type 5 = Sectors tagged for encryption (WAMO will supply keys encrypted during mastering)

- Analog Macrovision: Is Analog copy protection required and what type; needed for royalty reporting purposes

- HD Copy Protection AACS, BD Mark, and BD Plus are copy protection types for the High Definition formats (BD and HD-DVD).
